

Rural Living Guide

Taylor County, Wisconsin

Introduction

The rural areas of Taylor County continue to experience rapid population growth as many people choose to live in a country setting. Over two-thirds of Taylor County residents live in the country, and Taylor County welcomes new rural residents. Living in a rural area, however, differs in many ways from living in an urban community. This Rural Living Guide has been developed to inform those who are considering purchasing a rural property, those who own property in a rural area, and those who are living in a rural area. It is hoped that this information will help people consider issues that may affect them

Emergency Services

Law Enforcement

- The Taylor County Sheriff's Department is responsible for law enforcement in areas outside of Medford and villages within the County.
- Response times tend to be longer than in urban areas and are affected by travel times, visibility of address signs, inclement weather, and road conditions. Police officers from nearby Medford and villages may assist in certain situations.

Fire Protection

- The County is served by several local volunteer fire departments.
- The level of protection and response time depends on the access to water, distance of a structure from a fire station, type and number of vehicles, and number of volunteers and training. These factors affect home insurance rates.

Ambulance Service

- There are five ambulances, based in Gilman, Rib Lake, and Medford, that serve the County.
- Service may be affected by distance, weather conditions, and condition of public and private roads.
- Support your fire department.

Rural Addresses

- In order for responders to quickly identify the location of an emergency, Taylor County utilizes a standardized system for road names and address numbers.
- Address signs should be kept clear of obstruction and are to be perpendicular to the road for visibility in both directions.
- Addresses are assigned by the County Zoning Department at (715) 748-1485.

911

- In case of emergency dial 911. Taylor County has Enhanced 911 (E911), which displays your address and fire/ambulance district to the dispatch operator.

Building & Development

Permits

- Permits for construction, filling and grading, septic systems, and other land use activities may be required by County, Town and State in order to assure compliance with ordinances.
- Contact the County Zoning Department at (715)748-1485 or your Town Clerk prior to any construction or changing or adding to a use on a piece of property.

Zoning and Subdivision

- Zoning regulations determine land uses, lot sizes, as well as setbacks from roads, property lines, and other features. Subdivision regulations determine how land may be divided into smaller lots and new roads.
- Zoning and subdivision regulations promote orderly development, minimize conflicts between incompatible land uses and protect property values and resources.
- Most towns in the County have adopted the County Zoning Ordinance. Currently, The Towns of Chelsea, Grover, Hammel, and Molitor have their own planning/zoning. However, County Shoreland and Floodplain Zoning and the Sanitary Ordinance apply to all towns within Taylor County.
- Contact the County Zoning Department at (715)748-1485.

Wells and Drinking Water

- Drinking water for rural houses comes from private wells. State regulations only require that the water be tested for bacteria at the time of construction. Thereafter, it is the responsibility of landowners to test their water regularly.
- Water testing kits are available at the County Land Conservation Department, County Health Department, or through private labs. A fee may apply.
- Groundwater within portions of the Town of Pershing has been contaminated by petroleum solvents. Special well construction requirements may apply in these and some other areas.
- Arsenic is present in well water in many areas of Taylor County. Contact the County Land Conservation Department at (715)748-1469 for more information.

Septic Systems

- Private onsite wastewater treatment systems (POWTS) are used to treat wastewater from rural houses. Septic systems and holding tanks are the most common types of POWTS. Maintenance and care of these systems are the responsibility of the landowner.
- Improper use of your septic system could lead to premature failure of the system, expensive repairs, and contamination of your well water.
- For more information see "Care and Maintenance of Septic Systems," University of Wisconsin-Extension publication B3583 or contact the County Zoning Department at (715)748-1485.

Roads and Driveway Access

- Rural roads are under public ownership. Maintenance of public roads is the responsibility of the Town, County or State. It is the responsibility of the owners along a private road/joint driveway to maintain and plow snow.
- A driveway permit is required for access to public roads and highways. Standards for driveway, culvert sizing, and mailbox locations vary depending on jurisdiction. For town roads contact your Town Board; for county roads, contact the Taylor County Highway Department at (715)748-2456; for state highways contact WisDOT at (800)991-5285.
- Adequate space for emergency vehicle access is critical for your safety. Every driveway should have 12 feet of horizontal clearance and 13.5 feet of vertical clearance.

Private Property Restrictions

- There are private arrangements in addition to government regulations that may affect what you may do with your property.
- Easements may require you to allow construction and maintenance of roads, utilities, storm water facilities, and pipelines across your land.
- Some rural housing developments have home owners associations with deed restrictions and covenants that restrict outbuildings, outdoor storage, and building design.
- These restrictions may be recorded with the property deed, or with the plat. Check these issues carefully.
- Contact the County Register of Deeds at (715) 748-1483.

Government Services

Town Government

All unincorporated areas are governed under "town" government. "Towns" are not the same as small cities or villages, although they may have the same name and zip code as a city or village.

- Services offered by town government vary. Town governments are rural in nature and do not provide a full range of services. Historically, a town government's primary responsibilities have been road maintenance, snow plowing, recycling, and voting places.
- Town government in Wisconsin has an element of direct participatory democracy through the Annual Meeting each April at which residents vote on policy and budget issues.

Snow Plowing

- Snow plowing takes longer to complete in a rural area. Your road may not be plowed before you have to leave in the morning. Major roads such as state highways and county roads get first priority. Each town has its own snow plowing plan.
- If you live on a private road or joint driveway, snow plowing is your responsibility. If you have a joint driveway or shared private road, talk to your neighbor before it snows.

Garbage and Recycling

- Garbage collection and recycling programs vary from town to town. Contact your Town Clerk for details.
- State Law requires recycling of paper and containers.
- Special collections for hazardous waste, appliances, electronics, and tires are held periodically each year. Contact (715)748-1485.
- For more information contact the County Solid Waste Department at (715) 748-1485.

Schools

- There are three public school districts in Taylor County.
- The boundaries of the districts are extremely irregular. School district maps may be found at www.taylorcogis.com/html/default.htm.
- Each district has its own policies regarding bus service.

Animals & Wildlife

Horses, Pets and Stray Animals

- Just like in cities, dogs must be licensed and have their rabies vaccinations. Animals need to be under control at all times. Bears, wolves, or other animals may injure or kill a pet if you do not keep your pet safe.
- For information about dog licensing and control of stray animals contact your Town Clerk or the County Sheriff's Department at (715) 748-2200.
- The Taylor County Humane Society can be reached at (715)748-6750.

Driving

- Enjoy "grilled venison?" You may get some if you don't pay extra attention when driving. Each year thousands of deer are killed and injured by motor vehicles. Extra caution is needed when driving, especially at night. Seasonally, deer activity increases from early October through November. During the mating season bucks chase does through all hours of the day and night.

Living with Wildlife

- Living in a rural area requires a lot of consideration of wildlife. Deer, although beautiful, can ravage a garden or expensive plants. Carefully consider which plants you will use in your landscaping or garden. It is not the deer's fault that your expensive hostas taste so good.
- Raccoons, bears, and other wildlife are attracted to garbage and bird feeders as a food supply. Secure your garbage to prevent problems.
- Wood and deer ticks are parasites that suck blood from people and animals. The deer tick spreads Lyme Disease and other diseases. Symptoms of Lyme Disease vary in degree and may include a bull's-eye rash around the bite and fatigue. It is usually treated with antibiotics but also can linger. Other tick-borne diseases have other symptoms. Awareness is key and tick checks should be done daily on people and pets.
- To attract wildlife and improve habitat contact the Wisconsin DNR at (715)748-4955 or the County UW-Extension Office at (715)748-3327. A variety of publications are available.

Agriculture

Farm Operation

- Agriculture is an important part of the Taylor County economy. Farm operations have both legal rights and regulations.
- Farmers often work around the clock, and farm operations commonly include dust, noise, odors, and farm chemicals. These typical farm activities may affect adjoining property owners.

Manure

- Manure is an inevitable and valuable by-product of livestock production. Unfortunately, the odor does not smell like money to some people.
- Most farmers are required to have a nutrient management plan for their farm. In order to minimize run off and avoid groundwater contamination, as well as grow crops efficiently, the plan is based on soil tests and the crops to be grown.
- Taylor County has a manure management ordinance which spells out procedures to deal with problems arising from poor manure management. Contact the County Land Conservation Department at (715)748-1469.

Fences

- State law (Chapter 90 of State Statutes) states that if livestock is present on one property, a fence must be maintained on the property line by both property owners. Other accommodations can be made if both parties agree. See the "Country Acres" publication from University of Wisconsin Extension for more information.

Slow Moving Vehicles

- Farm vehicles are allowed on all roads and may back up traffic. Please watch for, and be patient with, slow moving vehicles. Most drivers of slow-moving vehicles will wave you through when it is safe to pass.
- Horses and buggies are also present. They use the same "slow-moving vehicle" sign but may or may not have lights.

Fire Danger

Housing in Wooded Areas

- Living in the woods is very rewarding. However, those trees are also threats to your home. When building or purchasing an existing home, maintain a buffer between your home and the forest to reduce the fire danger to your home. Contact the Wisconsin DNR at (715)748-4955 or visit www.dnr.state.wi.us/org/land/forestry/fire/index.htm.

Outdoor Burning

- Wildfires happen most often during the months of April and May. A primary cause of these fires is debris burning.
- Permits are needed for all outdoor debris burning whenever the ground is not snow covered. Burning permits can be obtained from the Town. No permit is needed when the sole purpose is for cooking and warming.

Burn Barrels

- The DNR strongly discourages the use of burn barrels.
- The only items that may legally be burned are leaves, plant clippings, and clean, unpainted, untreated wood.
- Burning materials such as tires, plastic, and rubber is prohibited because they generate toxic air emissions and hazardous ash residue. For more information see www.dnr.state.wi.us/org/aw/air/hot/barrels.htm.

Recreation

County Parks

- Taylor County has a great park system. For more information contact the Buildings, Grounds and Parks Department at (715)748-1489 or look for a Taylor County Tourism Map.

Trespass

- You are criminally trespassing on private land unless you get permission from the owner. Land does not have to be "posted" with signs, unless it is adjacent to public land (includes private forest lands open to public hunting/use). Respect private property and ask permission before you use.

Hunting and Fishing

- Hunting and fishing are rural traditions. Wisconsin has hunter harassment laws that make it a crime to interfere with legal hunting. Respect those who partake in these activities or join a local sportsman club to learn how to participate yourself.
- Contact the Wisconsin DNR at (715)748-4955 for public hunting lands or if violations occur.

ATV Use

- Within Taylor County, ATV use is allowed on your private property.
- There are designated public ATV trails within the county, including the Perkinstown Trail and Camp 8.
- Be considerate and respect your neighbors.
- ATVs are also allowed on some rural roads.

Snowmobile Use

- Taylor County has a system of public snowmobile trails. For more information, contact the County Recreation Department at (715) 748-1486.
